CLOSE TO A THOUSAND MEN WILL SEEK PUBLIC OFFICE AT PRIMARY, SEPTEMBER 16

Number of Papers Filed Exceeds Those of Any Previous Campaign.

FULL COUNTY TICKETS

Democrats and Republicans Have Contests on Several Important Posts; Candidates for Sheriff Are All from the South End of County.

With the expiration last evening of the time for filing petitions by candidates for county, city, borough and township offices at the primary election, September 16, approximately 1,000 papers had been received at the office of the county commissioners in Uniontown, a number considerably in excess of any filed in a previous primary campaign in the county. Republican and Democratic parties are represented by complete tickets for county offices with the exception of county surveyor, Democrat, and with contests in each party for several of the offices to be filled. The Socialist party has candidates for a few county offices.

Petitions may be withdrawn at any time until Friday evening of this week.

In the Republican party there are contests for sheriff, county commissioner, recorder of deeds, director of the poor, and county treasurer. Three seek the nomination for sheriff, eight for county commissioners, two for recorder of deeds, four for director of the poor and two for county treasurer. The Democrats have contests for sheriff, county commissioner and director of the poor.

Perhaps the contest for the sheriffalty in the Republican party will take the center of the stage. All the candidates are from the south end of the county. Two, Martin F. Murphy and Ira I. Shaw, better known as "Zeke," are from Uniontown. The third aspirant, George W. Miller, is a Fayette City man.

For county commissioner, with two to be nominated, the candidates are: George W. Hibbs, Uniontown, who was appointed to the board to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Charles H. Nutt; E. L. Clemmer, Brownsville; John S. Langley, Menallen township; Owen H. Stewart, Uniontown; Alex R. Duncan, Dunbar; George Orval Rush, Uniontown; P. A. Johns, Uniontown, and James J. Curry, Georges township.

FOR BOROUGHS ONLY

Act of Assembly Makes no Provision for Street Funds for Cities.

A copy of the act of Assembly relative to an appropriation for state aid for improvement of streets in boroughs, when the streets are parts of the state highway system, received by The Courier from State Treasurer H. M. Kephart, shows that $800,000 has been appropriated for the purpose but is for use in boroughs alone. The clause covering this feature reads:

"For the maintenance and repair of state highways within the limits of boroughs, the sum of $800,000 or as much thereof as may be necessary."

As was told in The Courier yesterday following the receipt of a telegram from the state treasurer, this shows that the state cannot, under the above mentioned act, lend aid for the improvement of Crawford avenue, the appropriation being limited to boroughs.

SCREENS MISSING

Girls Refuse to Buy Fruit Over Which Flies are Swarming.

This complaint came to The Courier today from a "bunch of young ladies" employed in an office in the business section who went down town at the noon hour to buy some fruit at dealers' stand but returned without, for the reason, they said, that flies were swarming over the display.

The called attention to the fact that the usual screen is missing from many, perhaps all, of the fruit displays and that flies and other insects were present in abundance. "Ig, I couldn't eat that," one said.

AN EVEN DOZEN ASPIRANTS FOR COUNCIL PLACES

Five Republicans and Seven Democrats Offer Themselves as Candidates.

TWO FOR TREASURER

B. R. Floto, Republican, and City Clerk A. O. Bixler, Democrat, in race; Two Republicans and Two Democrats for School Director.

An even dozen candidates are in the field for the four seats in city council, Connellsville, to be filled at the November election, of whom five are Republicans and seven Democrats.

This was shown when the last petitions had been filed at the office of the county commissioners in Uniontown last evening, preliminary to the first battle of ballots at the primary election September 16.

Two have entered the race for city treasurer, which office comes under the elective system this year for the first time, the treasurer having hitherto been appointed by council. There are four, two in each party, for school director. In each ward there is a candidate or more for alderman and the majority of the ward offices.

Republican councilmanic candidates are R. W. Hoover and C. W. Uts, who seek re-election; George W. Campbell, R. S. Brashear and R. E. Shaw. On the Democratic side are B. L. Berg, who asks to be returned to office; J. D. Madigan, J. E. Wallace, Matthew Crowley, A. R. King, J. J. Brady and Jesse A. Cypher.

E. R. Floto, present city treasurer, is the only Republican candidate for the office. A. O. Bixler, city clerk, will be his Democratic opponent at the November election.

C. Roy Heitzel, now a member of and president of the school board, and Fred R. Yoder are the Republican candidates for school director, two of whom are to be elected. Attorney Ross S. Matthews and James H. Straw are the Democratic aspirants.

For Alderman, Harry Hopkins, Republic, has no opposition in the First ward. Fred Munk, incumbent, and Edward Barnhart have filed petitions in the Second ward, both are on the two tickets. In the Third ward S. H. Howard filed petitions as the candidate of both parties and has no opposition. He now holds the office.

In the Fourth ward Alderman W. D. Coiborn is a candidate for re-election with petitions for both parties. W. H. Showman filed a petition as the Republican candidate. In the Fifth ward the candidate is Lett P. Hoover, Democrat.

Frank O'Connor, Jr., is opposed in the Sixth ward by Joseph Bowry. Both are Republicans. Alex W. Hart and John Martin are the opposing candidates for the aldermanic office in the Seventh.

Other candidates, for strictly ward offices are:

First ward—Judge or election, W. C. Bishop, Republican; Inspector, Harry K. Berlin, Republican, and J. P. Scott, Democrat.

Second ward—Judge, William E. Land, Republican; Inspector, A. L. Friel and Jacob Miller, Republicans, and Salvatore Desnoe, Democrat.

Fourth ward—Judge, A. J. Daniels, Republican, and D. T. Hirleman, Democrat; Inspector, Rockwell Dull, Republican, and J. H. Hoover, Democrat.

Seventh ward—Judge, George Blair, Republican; Inspector, William Miller and Charles F. Rowe, Republicans.

MUCH FOOD COMING

Three Tons Ordered By Postmaster;

Lots of Bacon.

Postmaster W. D. McGinnis mailed an order to the surplus food distributing officer at Philadelphia today for three tons of surplus foods to be shipped to Connellsville at once. This amount of food has been ordered through the local post office by patrons.

The food sale will be continued for some time at the local office as large amounts of some articles have been assigned to the local office for distribution. Perhaps the largest amount of any article available through the local office is bacon. Two thousand 12-lb. cans have been assigned to the local office. This is also perhaps the greatest bargain on the list as it figures out to cost about 36 cents per pound. About half the rice available has been taken and half a ton of dried beans.

By the method of distribution adopted, the local office was assigned the same amount of articles that Pittsburg got.

It is hoped to have the shipment just ordered in before the sale is withdrawn so that intending purchasers can see the quality of the articles offered.

FARMERS CHIEF OBJECTORS TO DAYLIGHT SAVINGS LAW

Special to The Courier.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Agitation for the repeal of the Daylight Saving law, which passed the house over the President's veto yesterday, first came from the farmers but recently has been supported by labor unions, mothers' clubs, rural school authorities and many other interests. Urban opinion also has become divided and officials of many cities and smaller towns have come out against the law. Congress has been flooded with petitions for repeal of the law, in collision with a counter-flood urging retention of the statute.

Loss of time in farm labor is the principal objection raised to the law. This complaint comes principally from farmers employing hired hands and opponents of the law declare all farmers, at some time during the summer season, are employers of labor and suffer from the law.

The complaint of loss of labor is based principally on the shortening of the working day on the farm by the advancing of the clock one hour from March to October. The farmers' complaints declare they cannot adjust farm work to the advanced time because, with the clock advanced an hour, farm work cannot be begun as early in the morning as under the normal time schedule and must close an hour earlier. This is because the dew on the ground in the early morning prevents plowing and other farm labor under the advanced time schedule.

Far hands—hired men, etc.—it is contended, will not work after 6 P.M., clock time, or at most 7 o'clock. Advancing of the clock an hour, therefore, it is declared, causes a loss of an hour's working time at the end of the day, when the ground is in good condition for work but with farm labor refusing to work after 6 or 7 o'clock, clock time.

Individual farmers, as well as those employing help, also declare they suffer great confusion from the advanced time. Various farm activities, it is said, must coordinate with clock time in adjacent towns and cities. Farmers, it is explained, must deliver produce to trains, frequently early in the morning. If the farmers work by sun time, in order to meet ground conditions, milking of cows, etc., it is said they suffer hardship in rising and working an hour earlier in order to load wagons of produce to meet trains. They also decide cows, chickens and other farm animals cannot adjust themselves to the new clock time but require attention according to natural custom and sun-time hours.

"The rooster crows regardless of the daylight saving law," one farmer declared in a petition to Congress. Mothers' objections to the daylight law are based upon confusion of conditions in the home and fundamental loss of sleep by children. They declare children are awakened an hour earlier than usual under the law and lose another hour's sleep at night, because of refusal or inability to sleep during daylight of the evening. These conditions, it is said, cause loss of weight, fretfulness, nervous trouble and other ailments of children—and the mothers, too, from contact with the children.

Protests against the law from labor unions and workmen are based upon the requirement of the daylight law for earlier rising. Waves of workmen, it is said, are compelled often to rise before daylight, and prepare breakfast by artificial light. Some labor unions say the long extended daylight at the end of the day does not compensate for the loss of sleep and early morning hardships of the advanced clock time.

Rural school authorities object to the law because, they say, it is a hardship both on pupils and teachers, who often have to walk from one to six miles to school and must arise before daylight to arrive on time.

Objections of town and city officials are varied. Some towns in agricultural regions, observing farmers' opposition to the law, have refused to adjust their clocks. Maintenance of the "old" time in such towns causes confusion in meeting trains and other civic affairs. Other municipalities, principally in the middle western time zone, passed ordinances advancing time pieces an hour, adopting time standards of the eastern zone, before the daylight saving law was enacted. The law, therefore, required these "central time" cities to advance their time pieces still another hour. Some observed and some declined to observe the law, making for further confusion.

To the argument of champions of the daylight law, that it makes for actual economic gain, in saving of light and fuel, opponents of the law contend that really an economic loss

THAT CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE

Mrs. Godden Tells How It
May be Passed in Safety and Comfort.

Fremont, O.—"I was passing through the critical period of life, being forty-six years of age and had all the symptoms incident to that change—heat flashes, nervousness, and was in a general run down condition. It was hard for me to do my work.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me as the best remedy for my troubles, which it surely proved to be. I feel better and stronger in every way since taking it, and the annoying symptoms have disappeared." —Mrs. M. GODDEN, 925 Napoleon St., Fremont, Ohio.

Such annoying symptoms as heat flashes, nervousness, backache, headache, irritability and "the blues," may be speedily overcome with the system restored to normal condition by this famous root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If any complications present themselves write the Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for suggestions how to overcome them. The result of forty years experience is at your service and your letter held in strict confidence.

develops—that farm production is curtailed and that while fuel and light are saved in cities there is a greater loss on farms, where lamps in the house and lanterns in the barns must be used an hour earlier.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shaw were calling on Connellsville friends Tuesday.

Ohio City can boast to the Courier readers as being the best black berry pickers, as Lena Burnworth and father brought in town 200 gallons or 80 buckets and sold them. They were picked in their own fields and had sold some through the country and canned quite a number for their own use.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 19.—With his neck wedged between two rails in a crib in his home, 204 Eleanor street, Mount Washington, the body of Frederick Duscheck, six-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Duscheck, was found strangled at 7 o'clock last night by his mother.

THE PARAMOUNT.

"THE MAN IN THE MOONLIGHT"—With Monroe Salisbury in an interesting role, is being shown today. The picture is in five acts and is interesting from the beginning to the end.

The star is given an excellent opportunity to display his dramatic ability.

It is supported by cast of unusual excellence. A selected comedy is also being shown. Tomorrow Evelyn

Greeley will be featured in "Bringin

Up Betty," a world attraction of much interest. Miss Greeley is seen as Betty

Morton, a young society girl with a huge fortune.

Among her admirers are two men, an American society man and a nobleman. Betty likes their flattery, but her wise old uncle and his friend Potter, the banker, distrust the woofers and determine upon a plan to find out just how long they will remain Betty's guests when it is announced that her uncle has committed suicide because of the loss of his money. Morton and his friend pull off their little coup, but unforeseen complexions soon set in which make it an extremely difficult task for them to get rid of the unwelcome suitors and see the girl married to a man whom all three like.

THE SOISSON.

"DARING HEARTS"—With Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne in splendid roles, is being presented today. By reason of war beginning and war ending elements, the picture is said to show in vivid relief the vital facts of human history.

The germs of disaster and the final abolition of those germs are said to be revealed without a confusing thought.

The story and trend of the picture are declared to rest wholly upon the foundation of a romance. There is a single episode of actual warfare of the air. This is the incident of an aerial battle. The spectators are thrilled by the spectacle of Hun machines being attacked and shot down from above the clouds, by a single American "ace." This is a story of the war as seen by the Alsatian, who was forced to take arms against the land of tricolor. The spirit of the American in France in 1914 is ably portrayed by Mr. Bushman. A selective comedy is also being shown. Both attractions will be shown tomorrow

Friday and Saturday. William Desmond will be featured in "A Sage Brush Hamlet."

WEDNESDAY EVENING, AUG. 20, 1919.

ENERGY AND COOPERATION
REQUISITES

Even better news than had been expected, concerning the Connellsville-to-Farmington road, was furnished readers of The Courier yesterday in the information from Harrisburg following a conference between State Treasurer H. J. Kephart and State Highway Commissioner Sadler, in relation to this improvement.

That the decision was reached to immediately begin the preparation of specifications and estimates in order that bids may be invited within two weeks, indicates that the highway department has been impressed with the importance of the undertaking and the merits of the cause of this proposition as convincingly presented by our well-known fellow townsmen.

This stage in the progress of the improvement has been reached as the result in part of the interest that has been aroused in behalf of this enterprise by its friends and supporters. The yeoman service was, of course, rendered by the members of the Connellsville-to-Farmington Road League who first conceived the proposition and for three years past have been urging it forward. But meantime we at this end of the line have been just a trifle slow in awakening to the fact that the completion of this thoroughfare is a matter of very vital importance to Connellsville as a means of expanding the city's trade and of bringing a large and prosperous section into more intimate touch with our city.

When just a few days ago The Courier directed attention to the statement of Highway Commissioner Sadler to the effect that under an existing rule of the department work on the road could not be undertaken until the city had improved Snyder street to the city line, the whole proposition was invested with a new interest to the city of Connellsville. Citizens who had previously been only passively concerned became aroused and at once set about giving the movement a new impetus through enlisting the aid of persons in a position to get the project under way. All of which goes to show that energetic effort and cooperation are the requisites in doing things as well as in having them done.

DEALERS FOR GOV'T COMMUNIC FOOD

While many communities have shown very active interest in the government's plan of distributing food through parcel post and by shipment of car lots to the municipal authorities, and have bought freely other communities have been somewhat slow to take advantage of the arrangement. In many of the larger towns the first car of food has been quickly disposed of and another in some cases two ordered in addition. Elsewhere no little effort has been necessary to find buyers in sufficient numbers to absorb the contents of a single car. Some post offices report a large business in orders by parcel post, others serving a large population find comparatively few people interested in the extent of buying from the government store.

These noticeable differences in the attitude of communities as yet to be regarded as indicating the failure of the plan whereby a wide distribution of food is sought. To some extent they merely represent the varying wants and tastes which are common to people as well as to localities. Thus it has been found that one community has a preference for articles on the government's list which another often nearby orders only sparingly if at all.

The prices of some articles notably flour and rice offer no inducement to buyers, we doubt accounts in part for the backwardness of consumers in placing their orders. So long as these or other commodities can be purchased and delivered locally at prices lower than those quoted by the government it is not to be expected consumers will include them in their orders. The government prices on canned vegetables and meats are an inducement and are being freely disposed of both through mail orders and from the stocks received in cars. Had the price of flour been made relatively as slow as the price on other foods there is every probability that the demand for other articles would have been even greater, some consumers no doubt having been deterred from placing an order of any kind because the price of flour—a staple needed in every home—was not more attractive.

The more President Wilson interposes "the peace treaty" and league of nations the plainer he makes the necessity for making even more reservations than have been proposed in the Senate.

ACTION THE THING.

The War Department is to be congratulated upon the speed and determination with which it took action with a view to rounding up the Mexican bandits who held two American aviators for ransom. It is more in accord with the American idea and method of doing things than to waste a lot of time, and achieve nothing in the end by resorting to "diplomacy," "watchful waiting" or any other policy short of quick action.

The brazen black-handerers who committed this latest outrage, like the Huns know no argument but force, and respect no authority that is not able to apply it effectively. Once it becomes known south of the Rio Grande that the United States will stand no more offense against the person or property of its citizens the whole so-called "Mexican question" will be found to have solved itself.

Wouldn't the Department of Justice make a hit with the country if it arrested Captain Blackie to its satisfaction? An officer who can secure two men held for ransom and bring back half of the blood money ought to be able to make a good score in rounding up the profiteers.

Since his cross-examination of yesterday President Wilson now has some idea of how the third degree operates.

Thanks to the nerve of an American Army officer the high cost of being ransomed has been cut in half.

Geographical location appears to have been the chief qualification of some "picked" Democratic candidates for nomination.

Had State Highway Commissioner Sadler taken another trip or two over Whiskaboard Avenue he might have found it possible to provide some way for the state to aid in smoothing out this thoroughfare.

Neither alligator bears nor pairs of alligators appear to be in favor here.

Who urged the War Department to keep the war in Mexico?

Even a gallant official of the Army is inclined to say that most formidable array of the very best blood of Old Dixie destined to go down to defeat at the November election.

Watchman Examiner

The fact that the Standard Oil company recovered its oil in operating wells in Egypt is generally known but its reason for going to that ancient land to look for oil is probably not well known. It is asserted that the attention of some one connected with the company was attracted by the statement in Exodus 15 that the ark of bulrushes that mother Moses had made for her child was dashed to pieces and with pitch there was oil and if there ever was oil in Egypt it was probable that there is off shore now. The company sent out Charles Whittlestone geologist and oil expert to make investigations with the result that oil was discovered. Three wells are now in operation and others are to be opened. Moral: It pays to read the Bible.

One is inclined to suspect that Mr. McAdoo saw something coming when he resigned from the position of director of railroads.

It matters not what task you choose. What sort of tools in life you use. It matters not what job you have. You will do well if you select the right form of work you will do. Or any place you care to fill. Then go to work and make yourself the equal of the best.

Whatever be your mission here. Make this your one ambition here. To toil for something more or earth. That surely drink and grub. Determine in your chosen line to stand among the men who shine and to be a good one not a dub.

Don't let another man surpass your efforts in your chosen calling. Keep at it till you stand with all the leaders of your class.

Although you may be laying bricks or making fence, candlesticks, or whatever you may be doing, someone else does better than you can.

Let this your one ambition be. To struggle for supremacy. Don't be content to drift and join the second raters club.

Whatever work you choose to do. Forever keep his aim in view. To make yourself a good one not a dub.

The world is full of men who think success is found in meat and drink. The drifters and the good enoughs make up a mighty throng.

But few there are who meet the test. Of striving hard to be their best. Of dare to challenge in their line all men who come along.

It matters not what work you chose. Whatever tools you use, you use. If you're the under in your line you need not fear a snub.

For what you will on this old earth the world shall revere you for your worth.

Why Lack Of Iron In The Blood May Be Costing You Money Every Day

Many a Capable Man or Woman Falls Just Short Of Winning Because They Don't Back Up Their Mentality With Physical Strength and Energy

If some of the money don't let the other fellow have it all, just because you have it, you can't afford to go after it with the same vim that gets him what he wants. Make yourself man of blood and iron. If you're keen, red-blooded Americans there is nothing in my experience which I have found so valuable as iron. Iron tones the body. It often increases the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, run-down people in two weeks' time.

"Many a capable man or woman falls just short of winning because they don't back up their mentality with the physical strength and energy which comes from having the right amount of iron in the blood." —Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital, White Plains, N. Y. He is a man of iron.

Man of iron means man of iron. It makes him strong, energetic, alert, and gives him a manly appearance. It makes him a man, a physical, manly man. When he is nervous, irritable, easily fatigued, it takes him of that virile force, that stamina

AMERICANS WHO PARADE IN LONDON ON PEACE DAY MAKE A FINE IMPRESSION

LONDON, July 20 (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—The provisional regiment of American soldiers who followed General Pershing in the peace day procession, was the first sample of American fighting troops to march in London. Other organizations seen here had been on their way to the battlefields, while these men were returning.

"Here were the Americans in steel helmets, marching in companies eight abreast with bayonets fixed," said the Daily Express. "They were as joyful as any when the procession halted, for a time, but while they marched, their faces were as serious and as immobile as the gravest of grave images. They made a profound impression on the onlookers. Their marching was Roman in its iron sternness and precision."

"A magnificent regiment it was," said the Daily Telegraph. "Young men all of them and the quintessence of the alert and lithe khaki clad in brown steel helmets they looked most workmanlike."

"How magnificently they marched, mutiny of Russian troops at Tulgas on the Drina river some time ago. Their experiences have just been told. Merrill and Cotton who were formerly Dartmouth college athletes were the only Americans in the village which was garrisoned by Russian troops with a few British officers. The Russians, fearing that they were about to be cut off and surrounded by the Bolsheviks, determined to mutiny. They escorted the two Americans to a blockhouse which was under fire from Russian artillery. The blockhouse eventually became too hot for the Russian escorts and they fled, leaving the Americans to make their escape to Archangel by rowing 250 miles down the river.

MARRIED REGULARS TO BE SEGREGATED

PLAN IS TO PUT THEM ALL IN THREE REGIMENTS SO THEY CAN HAVE HOME LIFE.

QUARTERS FOR THE FAMILIES

War Department Believes This Not Only Would Be Better for the Soldiers and Their Wives, but Would Encourage Re-enlistments.

By EDWARD E. CLARK.
Washington.—Something new is promised in the United States army; that is Uncle Sam's regular army. It is proposed by the war department to put all the married regulars into three regiments and to station them at posts where there are living quarters for families and where the men can enjoy the home life.

Nothing of this kind ever before has been attempted in the service. In the old days of the regular army, when an enlisted man took unto himself a wife, he was not always certain that he could provide a home for her within the limits of the garrison where he was stationed. The result was that the wife frequently was compelled to live in some nearby town. The arrangement was good neither for the man, for his wife, nor for the military service. It was found out in the old days, however, that married enlisted men who managed to secure quarters within the garrison for their families were likely to re-enlist in the service. This re-enlistment of seasoned soldiers was a good thing for the army. Apparently it is the belief of the authorities that by proper provision for the wives and children of enlisted men, re-enlistments will be encouraged and the service benefited.

Many Regulars Married Abroad.
It is said that 20,000 American soldiers married foreign brides while they were on service abroad. Of course not all of the 20,000 soldiers were regulars, nor anything like all of them, but it is said that enough regulars married to make it possible to create three regiments, the largest proportion of the enlisted personnel of which will be married men.

The soldiers who have married, and who are to be put into special regiments are called the F. P. V.'s. No, this does not mean First Families of Virginia, but Father of Family Veterans.

Two of the regiments into which married men are to be inducted are the Third and Sixth cavalry, both of them famous in American history for their fighting qualities. The Third and Sixth have seen service wherever the American flag has been unfurled, except in one or two places where mutinies alone entered into the fight. An infantry regiment with a large part of its personnel composed of married men also is to be named, but as yet the particular regiment has not been selected.

There was a good deal of marrying and giving in marriage in France during the stay in that country of the American army. The authorities of French municipalities where soldiers were billeted took fatherly interest in matrimonial matters on behalf of the daughters of fair France. They did not want any of their girls to be deceived into marriage with men who already might have matrimonial entanglements, if entanglements is the right word to use. So it was that the mayors in many of the French towns obtained from the soldier who contemplated matrimony his home address, the names of his parents, and the name of his postmaster. Then before the marriage was allowed to be solemnized, the chief town official would write to the soldier's home to make inquiry concerning him. When the good news came back that the soldier was all right the marriage ceremony was performed, perhaps by the official who had made the inquiry to establish the good reputation of the groom.

French Girls Are Attractive.

The larger part of the marriages contracted abroad were those of soldiers who were in what is called the S. O. S. area; that is the area of service of supplies. These men were charged with the great work of forwarding supplies of food, ammunition, clothing and other things to the men at the front. They were also charged with the building of parks for the incoming American troops, with the operation of the railroads and with dozens of other duties which were essential in order that the army might be able to fight a good fight.

French girls are pretty, vivacious, and what one might call fetching. To a staid old soldier, husband of a wife, and father of a family in far-off America, and who could look on them with the aloofness of a patrician, it was not surprising that many of the young unmarried Americans speedily fell victims to the arrow of Cupid, who shoots just as well in France, and perhaps better, than he does in the other countries of the world.

There have been some nonsensical ideas in America about the French girls. People have read about Paris, its extreme gayety and its frivolity, but the truth is that there is no more felicity in Paris than there is in some big American cities. In the provinces of France, in the small towns and villages, there is sadness of conduct on the part of the young women, which will no doubt be emulated in like places in America.

Replanting Forests.
In England and in Scotland, before the war, were many hunting ranges and sporting grounds. During the war, however, these were cut down to supply munition factories at home and arsenals abroad. Never before, it is said, have these countries been so bare of timber as they are at present. But now they are preparing to replant their forests. The old ones were first of all ornamental but incidentally they proved useful. Those which they are planting now are to be first of all useful and also, of course, ornamental.

UMPIRES MAKE GAME SOUR AND LISTLESS

Brown on Enlivening "Stunts" by Contestants.

Arbiters Allow Absolutely No Talking Among Opposing Players and Take Much Aggressive Spirit Out of Men.

Funeral-like baseball obviously is what the umpires in the National league are trying to force on the fans, judging from the way they curb the players in their efforts to put a little excitement in the games. They allow absolutely no talking among the opposing players to liven hostilities and by enforcing this rule in the letter take much of the aggressive spirit out of the men. Some bull clubs and managers can get away with almost anything on the field, but the Cubs dare not open their mouths, says a writer in Chicago News. As soon as they do off the field they go with the umpires making all sorts of threats to fine and suspend them.

In the second game of a recent doubleheader, which the Cubs won from the Pirates 7 to 0 and 2 to 1, the last game going 12 innings, Umpire Klem displayed his animus toward President Mitchell and the Chicago club. He gave an inkling of it in St. Louis by listening to the remarks made and finally chasing Merkle, Paskert and McCabe from the bench. In the Pirate game he hopped on Mitchell and sent him to the bench for protesting on a ball that struck fair, but was called foul by Klem. Then he ordered Cooper to pitch while Mann was out of the box and not in the argument. Mann jumped on the plate and Cooper deliberately threw at him. A fight was expected to ensue and had it taken place Klem alone would have been responsible for it.

Officiousness among the umpires in the league is hurting the game. Fans do not like to see it. They are full of red blood and like to see a lot of activity on the field. Of course they do not go to the parks to see the men come to blows or use their spikes, but they do like to see them in conversational battles and bump one another round on the bases. When the umpires check this they take the spice out of the competition and most players perform with more perfection and spirit when they are allowed to give vent to their aggressive feelings. But the teams, especially the Cubs, do not get away with anything of this kind, because umpires like Klem and Byron run them out of the park almost before they start.

Hendrix takes a healthy swing at the ball. If they would let him connect he could knock it a mile.

President Heydler minced no words in telling Harry Herrmann his kick on the decision over the July 6 game is out of place.

Some day Veach is going to knock a lot of Mr. Nairn's wall in left field down when he goes crashing into it after fly balls.

Wouldn't Be Any Rose or Hay Fever if Simple Home Remedy Was Given a Chance.

Yes, there's a real NINTY-NINE per cent effective remedy for hay or rose-fever," frankly states a druggist in a prosperous Kentucky city. "But I don't expect anyone to believe me, because the treatment is so easy and the cost not worth mentioning."

"The annual crop of hay-fever jokes would be mighty scarce if people would get an ounce of Mentholized Aricine and by just adding water that has been boiled make a pint of liquid that will prove a real help to all who suffer."

"Many of my hay-fever friends tell me that by starting to gargle and sniff or spray the nostrils a few times a day the expected severe attack often fails to appear and in cases where it does show up is very mild and does not annoy."

"The Other Class of Pharmacists," who dispense Mentholized Aricine say, "will greatly modify any attack even when taken three or four days after hostilities begin."

Manager Robinson and Some of His Veteran Players.

The passing of Larry Cheney brings to mind the fact that there are few youngsters on the Brooklyn team, writes a critic of Brooklyn baseball affairs.

The regular outfielders are all veterans and in the infield Ed Konetchy and Lew Malone, Chuck Ward, Tom Platzmann, Pete Kilduff and Ray Schmundt are comparatively young in the game, but all have had their share of experience and hard knocks.

Every pitcher has been through the mill, likewise every catcher. Not one of the youngsters who was taken South last spring to prove his fitness for big league playing, Malone and by just adding water that has been boiled make a pint of liquid that will prove a real help to all who suffer."

Rogers Hornsby is 50 per cent of the St. Louis ball club, according to one of his ardent admirers. Hornsby certainly looked as valuable as that in the Bloomington Outfielder Comes to Grief in Sliding Into Base—Spikes Caught in Dirt.

Jack Kibble, left fielder for Bloomington (Ill.), the league leaders in the Three-I league, broke his right leg in two places in a recent Terre Haute-Bloomington game. Kibble, after getting a clean hit, attempted to advance to second on a high foul ball caught by the catcher and caught his spikes in dirt as he slid safe into second base. One break was at the ankle and the other just above.

Authorized Capitalization, $250,000.00. No Bonded, No Preferred Stock Indebtedness.

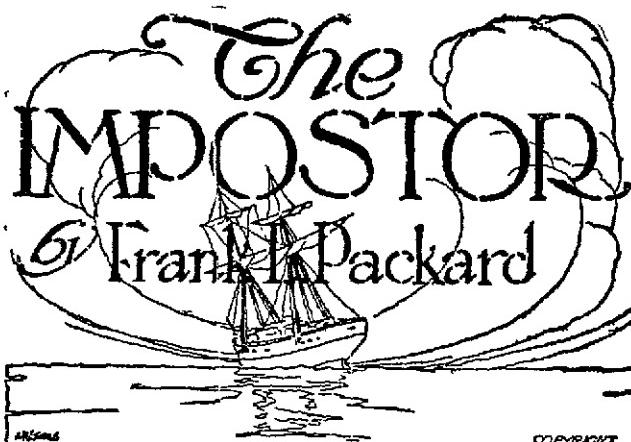

This company was organized to fulfill a great need in the Texas oil fields, namely, the development of leases held by smaller operators, such development being on a sharing basis and starting with the development of 1200 acres in the Ranger field in Callahan county on which the geological report has been shown to be very favorable.

This working plan of the company eliminates the payment of high prices for good oil leases and offers the investor an interest in a number of properties in different localities at as small a cost to the company as possible.

The Perkins well, the farthest well west of Ranger in Eastland county which joins us on the east, flowed 9240 barrels on the gauge just recently. The depth of this well was approximately 3400 feet.

A square deal to every share holder is the policy of the company.

The principal aim is to establish this company on a permanent and profit-producing basis to eventually take its place with the great producing companies whose names have become household words the world over. It is the purpose to rush operations. The policy reduces speculation to a minimum and the proposition presents an investment holding unlimited possibilities for the shrewd investor. The ways of fortune in the oil fields of the great Southwest are past all human understanding, and no one knows where the next big gusher may come in. Fortune, however, favors

Nerv-Worth and Nerv-Worth Laxative Tablets Do Wonders in Team Work.

These two famous family medicines unite their forces with happy results for those whose nervous ills are connected with bowel and liver troubles. Nerv-Worth, the liquid generally masters the symptoms of the liver and bowels but in some cases these are too deep rooted to surrender quickly and then the tablets taken in connection with the liquid do wonderful work. They are especially valuable in cleansing the bowels for those whose habits of constipation do not readily yield to the laxative properties of Nerv-Worth the liquid. A bottle of Nerv-Worth and a 25c box of the tablets form a combination with equal merit in overcoming ills of the nerves, stomach, bowels and liver.

It was very late, but precisely what time it was Wallen did not know, only that he had lain there for an interminable space. Well, he had waited so long he could afford to wait still another hour—until Drink-House Sam and whoever else was in the place had got to bed and gone to sleep. This time he would leave nothing to chance.

A light appeared suddenly in the end room on the veranda over the bar-room—and Wallen's lips parted in a twisted smile. Luck again! That was Drink House Sam's room! The man silhouetted against the light was opening the veranda door, for all probability. The room obviously then had two doors for Marle had entered it from the interior of the house. Wallen smiled again. He would enter from the veranda. Luck was coming, then now in greater measure than he had dared to hope.

The light in the room went out.

The minutes passed a quarter of an hour a half three-quarters, and then Wallen sat up unlace his boots and tying them together with their strings slung them around his neck.

Like a shadow, a little blacker than the surrounding blackness, he was across the street and quickly agilely, silently, was surmounting up one of the veranda posts.

He paused as he reached the rail to listen—the rail was old and it had creaked a little not loudly but—who knew?—it might have been heard.

There was not a sound.

He sprung over onto the veranda and moved cautiously forward. In a moment he was at Marle's door. Again he listened. Nothing—not a sound! Only darkness within pitch blackness was closed forever.

He could have laughed aloud hysterically at the ghastly irony of that. He must get away unseen before what was to come.

George A. Berlin Fatally Injured When Train Starts, Knocking Him Under.

DIES ON WAY TO HOSPITAL

Body Taken to Everson Home and Funeral Will Be Held Thursday Afternoon; Abie Wenner Injured While Diving; W. C. T. U. Election.

Special to The Courier.
SCOTTDALE, Aug. 20.—Sitting by the side of a freight car on the E. & O. railroad for shelter from the rain, George Albert Berlin, aged 63 years, was knocked underneath and fatally injured when the train started. He suffered a fractured leg and internal injuries and died on the way to the Memorial hospital at Mount Pleasant. The accident occurred shortly after noon yesterday. Deceased was a son of Mrs. Maria Berlin of Everson. His mother, two brothers and sister, at home, survive. Mrs. Porter Keffer of Bridgeport and Mrs. Michael O'Toole also are sisters.

Injured While Diving.
Abie Wenner, son of Harry Wenner, while jumping from a diving board toward the ladder in the "Y" pool yesterday morning struck the upper part of his nose and forehead on one of the round brass rails. Three stitches were required to close the wound, which was not serious.

To Ladies Who are Stout

Fat is fatal to health and beauty. Reduce weight sensibly and easily; improve your health and figure. Avoid heart trouble, wrinkles, nervousness, weaknesses, etc., besides personal embarrassment, due to obesity.

Look and feel younger. Walk sprightly. Let your eyes sparkle with new fervor. Surprise and delight your friends. Be a girl again!

Go to the druggist, get a small box of oil of korein (capsules) and follow directions of the Korein system. Reduce 10 to 60 pounds under guarantee. See you need (including some candy, if desired) and receive a free gift.

Don't bother about going through strenuous exercises or following rules of starvation diet. Why not become slender without drastic drugs, worry and self-denial? Here's your chance!
